Your position at Enduvo:

The Director of Product is responsible for ensuring that the product vision is realized through excellence in execution. They report to the CXO and have responsibility for the development of the product strategy, management of the product roadmap, and ultimate responsibility for the success of the Enduvo platform.

Our ideal candidate is someone who desires to get things done – someone who is persistent and articulate and who enjoys working in an ever-evolving environment. They know how to build and inspire teams. They have a backbone and are willing, even eager, to be held accountable for their teams' progress and deliverables. They are driven and excited to be on the ground floor of something that will be huge.

Your contribution:

- Partnering with the CXO and the CEO to define and build a world-class product team, realizing that their specific day-to-day tasks will evolve as the organization grows
- Driving the vision and strategy for our global platform
- Leading product development efforts for Enduvo across multiple systems (desktop applications and web platforms) leveraging Unity/Unreal, iOS, Android, and various cloud platform services
- Drive experimentation to increase organic traffic, new users, and business growth
- Managing teams by providing guidance and feedback, enforcing accountability, and coaching the team's performance
- Overseeing the development, testing, documentation, release, and feedback of full-stack, end-to-end features of our product
- Collaborating with customers, sales, marketing, and leadership to develop enhancements to the entire product pipeline
- Collaborating with strategic technology partners to define product requirements
- Engaging in the expansion of our IP portfolio by participating in our patent development process

What you'll bring to the team:

- Excellent leadership, collaboration and consensus-building skills
- Desire to coach and mentor a product team
- Obsessed with understanding users, our products, and the competitive landscape to help our product team to focus on what matters most.
- You are the knowledge base and single source of truth for the product which you and your product team are working on. With a deep understanding of the product, you are confident to evangelize it to our users, break it down to your product team, get buy-in from our stakeholders, and drive its impact to a new level.
- You have a track record of success with PLG bottoms-up strategies and demonstrated success executing these strategies by identifying, defining, prioritizing, and launching products that make a difference and create business value. You own your decisions and the outcomes you create.

- You are not just looking for a product manager job to grow your career. You want to be a part of our company and make an impact on our products, our users, and the way people communicate and learn.
- Ability to execute in AGILE environments and balance competing priorities within a performance-driven culture
- Expertise in building self-onboarding platforms that provide user-generated content with demonstrated growth
- Experience building user-centric communication and collaboration products that foster high user engagement

Your qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in Engineering, Computer Science, or a related discipline
- Previous founder/co-founder or early startup experience and demonstrated ability to build and grow a development team to scale
- 5 years of relevant experience in advanced technology management as a product and software leader building teams and leading organizations through product management, delivery, and commercialization, on time and budget
- You're evidence-driven and make decisions in an honest, transparent, and consistent way - taking pride in making the complex simple
- A growth mindset - you are honest about the unknown, you are humble to learn, you embrace challenges, welcome feedback, and believe you and others can always grow
- Energized by diversity and thinking outside of normal conventions
- Comfortable with owning outcomes and driving your work and super passionate about the user and their pivotal role to play in shaping our product offering
- A strong communicator and presenter both written and verbally
- Proven track record of product development, including shipping one or more products on large code bases that span a range of platforms and tools
- Experience with API integrations for large-scale, social platforms

Bonus points:

- Experience in additional fields such as programming, computer vision, OS, and game development
- Experience with AR Applications, SDK development, and Integration with cloud services
- Knowledge of Oculus Go/Rift/Quest, VIVE, and/or SteamVR platforms
- Broad understanding of software and cloud architecture, large deployment, availability, performance, and security SLAs
- Experience with JIRA
- Location: Remote with the ability to travel to Chicago (corporate) and to customer meetings.
